Admit it.

You only came here because you wanted to see if "Overwhelmingly Negative" existed.. It didn't feel fun, it felt like CoD zombies but with melee weapons, which was really annoying when you had to fight boomers solo. I only played it for 20 minutes because I didn't feel it was fun enough to continue. I don't want to be too critical or harsh but I give this a 1/5.. Quite a nice climatic game to play on a rainy night. It is an old school adventure (point and click) game but it acts more like telling a story while most puzzles feel like a check if you follow the plot. Still it may hook you for long hours just to see what happens next. Sad thing is that this game is supposed to be part 1 and ends with a cliffhanger. (Was Oscar really left forever tied under the table? Haha... But it is enough for spoilers.) Unfortunately part 2 is not on the horizon yet but still remains a possibility according to some information on the forum. Nevertheless the part 1 is still worth going through and it is about 14 hours of a film noir style story without counting time being stuck on puzzles.. Think this tantalising strategy/Tactical game was a challenge before, then try this map. Loaded with obstacles you must cross or go around to get to your target, with unlimited angles and corners for enemies to hide in or behind makes this a must-have for anyone whose found their way through so far.

No-one could call this game is easy, and I'd call anyone out on it who does, but this one is a doozy. Okay, you only get one map but you aren't paying $4 as Stardock would have you pay, and you are getting better value (yes you get a sub-faction with the "Ashes...

map, but one already created in the first "ashes..."). Think of the time it took to create this devilish masterpiece, test it out and tweak it some more and you have more than your money's worth.

Don't let this game die - support the Devs and crow about how you breezed though without a loss (and watch me call you out on it...hehe).

Keep the content coming, guys. There are still players looking for more challenges.. Controls just fine. The background music gets old pretty fast. I like that the weapons are all different and have a different feel and spread to it, however I just didn't really have fun playing the game so I can't really recommend this game.

My full overview and opinions on this game is in my Steam Backlog series:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NUGumxwXbzY>. Got this game with the Eidos Anthology sale, thought I just play this game to kill some time. Turns out this game is really addictive and pretty difficult even on the easy setting.. I have never taken an art class in my life but I love to draw and make sketches in my free time. Now, while I haven't quite had a lot of time to explore every aspect of Black Ink, I absolutely love what it can give you. I have been dying to get this for awhile now and when it went on sale I snatched it immediately and haven't regretted it yet. It has many features to help you make beautiful drawing and portraits. My favorite feature is literally the endless combinations of brushes and colors to make very amazing and crazy lines. Black Ink makes it easy for guys like me to have fun and make great things while not being all that well taught and such.. Pros

- Decent profile backgrounds from leveling up badge
- Puzzle game that requires critical thinking
- Change settings, grids/difficulty ect benefits play

Cons

- Literally bootleg 2048 mobile app
- Not worth the money
- Lose interest within hours of gameplay

Ideas for the developer

- Try adding a 3-D shape grid

- Is that the only soundtrack you have that repeats itself
 - Adding perks/ abilities that can give you the chance to redo-turns or clear lines
 - Multiplayer?

My score 3/10

. Best DLC EVER!

MS Paint is better. All that this game is, is a poor Super Smash Bros. clone. I like the concept, having Salad Fingers (from the online horror series "Salad Fingers", having the goat from the game "Goat Simulator" and having the blue blob from "Slime Rancher", but the attacks, animations, and sound effects were poorly done, maybe I'll re-install this game after it gets some patches but for now, don't waste $9.99 on it. My suggestion is for the devs to host a free open beta to test out the game and work out bugs and problems, so that they can release the full game for it's full price.. Got this for my clan while it was on sale, and it has been fun for us. It is like Battlefield 2 in a lot of ways, but has remote control drones, air strikes, EMP devices, and deployable stationary weapons to mix things up a bit. Minimally destructible terrain is included, but not a big aspect of the game. Graphics and sound are good. Game type "Frontlines" keeps the action focused at specific points so you don't feel lonely taking deserted points. Better than BF2.. Highly enjoyable for the 1 hour it took to clear all game.. Elementry soccer in a nutshell.

8/10. I love Octodad!!! XD. Easy Judgement Play....It's Exactly what i like.....and i followed this game since mobile ver. And now it's on steam.....I really like it owo)b

8.5/10. 0V10 wasting of DLC money for no refunds. do you think we never see god, because hes afraid of whats hes created. An amazing platform adventure game with extremely detailed sprites and a very affordable price.

Thank you all for your support!:

. 1.0 Update is OUT NOW!:

Hey guys,

Today we are releasing a new update, thanks for your patience while we were fixing bugs and improving some other things.

This patch will bring a lot of changes, based on your feedback.

You can check the patch notes below to find out what these are!

Level 1

- The level design has been improved, so players can understand the core mechanics earlier.
- Added a magnet icon to the bridges that you can push with the "Magnetic Impulse".
- Improved design and visibility to the final power source puzzle.
- Bombs now last longer on the final boss fight.
- It now takes more time for the final boss to attack.
- Added a papyrus explaining the use of boxes and how you can use them to attack enemies.
- Grabable objects are no longer affected by the "Time Power".
- Fixed an issue where players would sometimes not be able to turn the valves on the power source puzzles.

Level 2

- Fixed an issue where the statues that hug would sometimes not keep their positions.
- Added new statues that will attack you on the way to the second temple.
- Fixed an issue where you could open the door of the main temple with only two ears unlocked.
- Added a missing collision on the third temple.
- The particles of the snake's attacks have been optimized.
- Fixed an issue where the FOV changes after the first cutscene plays.

Level 3

- Improved collision and movement of the tea cups.
- Improved movement to the ladder on the rails.
- Added a particle to represent the threads of the puppeteer.
- Fixed an issue where players could jump on the doll's mouth to skip the level.
- Portals are now closer to each other, so players can move faster through the level.

Level 5

- Fixed an issue where you couldn't press the action button to trigger the final cutscenes.

MISC

- Overall performance improvements.

- Improved and optimized collisions.
 - Improved some sound FX.
 - Some text and icons are now smaller in the UI.
 - Fixed an issue where objects disappear sometimes, due to the view distance scale.
 - Added some footsteps to help players find where to go.

Thanks for checking out the patch notes, we'll keep improving The Watchmaker so expect more to come!

We want to hear your comments and thoughts about what changes would you like to see next, so please continue to send us feedback!

Special thanks to "Emps" for helping us testing and improving "The Watchmaker", check out her twitch:
